HARBS COLLECTIVE

ARTIST COLOURING SHEET

Henri Matisse (1869-1954) was a French visual artist. He was a sculptor and a painter inspired by nature. In his later years created large scale paper cut out collages. We love his use of colour and organic shapes.

© Illustration by Lara Evans (The Paint Pottle)

HARBS COLLECTIVE

ARTIST COLOURING SHEET

Bridget Riley (1931) is an English painter best known for experimenting with geometric patterns to create optical illusions and cool patterns (op-art) . Her style is know as abstract and we love her use of black and white.

© Illustration by Lara Evans (The Paint Pottle)

HARBS COLLECTIVE

ARTIST COLOURING SHEET

Yayoi Kusama (1929) is a Japanese artist who creates sculptures and instillations. She is best known for her use of polka dots and was one of the first artists to inspire a style of art called pop art. Kusama also puts her creativity into music, design, writing and fashion. We like how big her artwork can be.

© Illustration by Lara Evans (The Paint Pottle)

HARBS COLLECTIVE

ARTIST COLOURING SHEET

Gustav Klimt (1862-1918) was an Austrian painter and a member of the Art Nouveau movement, a style characterised by curvy, organic lines and often inspired by natural objects. We love his use of symbols and gold in his paintings.

© Illustration by Lara Evans (The Paint Pottle)

HARBS COLLECTIVE

ARTIST COLOURING SHEET

Damien Hirst (1957) is an English artist, entrepreneur, and art collector who became famous in the 1990s. His work is a mixture of beautiful and ugly and can make us think lots of different things at the same time like disgust and curiosity, happy and sad. We like his colourful spin art the best.

© Illustration by Lara Evans (The Paint Pottle)

HARBS COLLECTIVE

ARTIST COLOURING SHEET

Frida Kahlo (1907 – 1954) was a Mexican painter known for her portraits, self-portraits, and works inspired by the nature and artefacts of Mexico. She used a colourful folk art style with lots of symbolism to explore her identity, politics, gender, class, and race. Her paintings mix realism with fantasy. We love how she used art to express how she feels.

© Illustration by Lara Evans (The Paint Pottle)

HARBS COLLECTIVE

ARTIST COLOURING SHEET

Salvador Dali (1904-1989) was a Spanish artist who made paintings, sculptures and films about the bizarre or impossible. Dali was a very eccentric man - you can always recognise him because he has a funny moustache. Dali liked to use lots of different materials to make his art including paint, sculpture and film. He even designed furniture, jewellery and scenery for the theatre. We like that he used his crazy dreams to inspire his art.

© Illustration by Lara Evans (The Paint Pottle)